"We're being shaped into a different culture, a different character than the world is used to seeing..."

Southern Nazarene University
"...we're tested and challenged academically, as well as in faith, character, and the way we live our lives. We're not conformed to this age and hopefully people see something different in us."

— Chanda Thomas, Biology, Moore, OK
BE TRANSFORMED BY THE RENEWING OF YOUR MIND

The entire SNU education is built on a series of eye-opening encounters designed to prepare you to become a responsible Christian in a world much in need of men and women of character.

Your "encounters" will begin even before classes do, during New Student Institute, when you will team up with your new "family group" for a week of adventure and insight. Chapel is another great place to meet new friends as students come together for a special time of fellowship and worship.

This is the ideal place to step out in faith and try new things. We have talent shows, Broadway musicals, art exhibits, and theatre productions. Eight music ensembles tour in the U.S. and abroad. You can work on the staff of our newspaper or yearbook, run for office, or help plan campus events, like concerts and movies. And, there are always cool new classes to try, like horsemanship and aviation.

Our students have ventured to more than 35 countries and to inner city neighborhoods from Oklahoma City to Harlem, to serve humankind by working in AIDS hospices, hosting health fairs, performing street concerts, and serving in orphanages.
We have one of the largest and most elite intercollegiate athletic departments in the country, fielding 18 teams and a rowdy crowd of "Crimson Storm" fans!

You will have access to sophisticated chemistry and computer labs, modern athletic training rooms, a state-of-the-art music computer lab, classrooms with advanced "blackboard" technology, a cadaver lab, and a K-5th grade elementary school situated on campus — the first of its kind in Oklahoma.

It is common for our students to perform internships and shadow experiences at local corporations, schools, medical centers, and cultural organizations.

By exposing you to these encounters — and more — the SNU community will transform your mind, equip you for the future, and challenge you spiritually, socially, and academically. Soon, you will be prepared to succeed in the marketplace while living out your faith through irresistible influence.
A great time to visit SNU is during College Days, when you can stay in a residence hall, eat in the café, visit classes, and meet students and professors!
