Amy Carmichael (1867-1951) had never hesitated to answer God's call. So, when she was called to leave a very active life of ministry in her native Northern Ireland, she responded. After hearing Hudson Taylor speak, Amy thought she might be going to China where many of her missionary friends had gone, but the Lord had another plan for her. Because of her seemingly frail health, she was rejected by the China Inland Mission. She would find herself in India where the suffering was great and where her faith would be tested.
