Course Description

Introduction to the world’s major religious systems: Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, Judaism, Islam, Animism and even some segments of Christianity. We will investigate these religions from several perspectives, including historical (beginnings and development), phenomenological (beliefs, rituals, practices), and comparative (similarities and differences).

Texts

The Illustrated World Religions by Huston Smith
Can Evangelicals Learn from World Religions? by Gerald McDermott

Course objectives

Upon completion of this course, a student should be able to:

1. Articulate with sympathetic understanding the dimensions of several major religious worldviews: history, geographical areas of influence, ritual practices, doctrinal beliefs, ethics, expected experiences
2. Have the ability to describe the function of religion in sociological categories
3. Have the ability to describe and interpret the relationship between the religious aspects of a culture and individual behavior
4. Have the ability to describe the experiences of religious groups as expressed in literature, art and music
5. Have the ability to think globally and engage cross-culturally for the purpose of Christian mission

How do I pass this course?

1. Read the textbooks. Keep a reading log in which you write a minimum of 150 words of reflection on each of the following sections from the two books plus two sample test questions over that same material.

   McDermott 1-20
   McDermott 21-44
   McDermott 45-72
   McDermott 73-90
   McDermott 91-132
   McDermott 133-156
   McDermott 157-169
2. Video. View at least 20 of the 24 videos listed at: http://home.snu.edu/~hculbert/worldrel.htm. All of these are in the SNU library. For each video fill out the response form which is linked to in that web page listing.

3. Temple/Synagogue/Mosque visits. Visit the worship center (temple, mosque, synagogue) of five of the traditions studied in this course. Your visit can be to an actual service or meeting or it can be a visit to the building and a conversation with someone there. Report on that visit with a 2-3 page written observation paper.

4. “My conversion to Christianity from . . . .” Assume that you a following of a religion other than Christianity and that your spiritual journey let you to convert to Christianity and to embrace Jesus as Savior and Lord. Describe that journey. What caused you be curious about Christianity. What things did the Holy Spirit use to draw you toward a decision to make a paradigm shift? Attach to your paper a bibliography of sources consulted.

5. Case studies: Read through two of the case studies listed at http://home.snu.edu/~hculbert/worldrel.htm and write a 500-750 word reflection on possible courses of action for each one.

6. Seminar handouts. Prepare “seminar handouts” for three religions. Use your textbook as well as other sources. All sources used in the paper must be properly cited. Direct quotes must be enclosed in quotation marks and the source properly identified. See SNU’s policy on plagiarism at: http://home.snu.edu/~hculbert/integrity.htm

Include with your handout a separate bibliography page of sources consulted. In alphabetical order, give the full name of each author (surname first, then first name) followed by the title of the work. Book and journal titles should be italicized or underlined. Article titles should be in quotation marks. Place and date of publication should be included (date only in case of journals).

Here are some questions to get you started:
- What is the history of this religion?
- Where is it found and how many adherents does it have?
- What are the most important sacred stories of this religion?
- What are some of its beliefs about God, spirits, human nature, how the world came to be, what is it that humans should strive for (is it soteriological, for example)?
- What rituals are important in it?
- Is there a priesthood or ecclesiastical hierarchy?
- Is there a creed its adherents subscribe to?
- What ethical ideals does it promote?
- What major artifacts, architectural monuments, art work has it produced?
- Is there more than one sect, version or denomination?
- What do you think your seminar audience will most interesting about this religion?

7. What I would become. At the end of the semester, after you have done almost all the work in the class, imagine that Christianity was no longer a viable option as a belief system. Explain in 500 to 1000 words which religion you would choose to embrace and why if that happened.

Due Dates

All work is due by Friday of the last day of classes of the semester.
