Go Ye into All the World

James McGarahan, 1840-1907

1. Far, far away, in heathen darkness dwelling, Millions of souls forever may be lost; Who, who will go, salvation's story arising and entering in! Christians, awake! Your forces all retching, looking to Jesus, minding not the cost?

2. See o'er the world wide-open doors inviting, Soldiers of Christ, for every nation shall sing: Ransomed, redeemed, rejoicing in sal-telling, sending forth the gospel, break the chains of sin.

3. "Why will ye die?" the voice of God is calling, "Why will ye die?"
   life and salvation therefore go proclaim.

4. God speed the day, when those of every nation: "Glory to God!"
   Chorus

   "All pow'r is given unto Me, All pow'r is given unto Me, Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel, And lo, I am with you alway."

James McGarahan, 1840-1907
