“Living in the Community” by Tony Campolo

Social activist Tony Campolo is chair of the Sociology Department at Eastern College. As founder and president of a corporation to develop educational, medical and economic programs for third world countries, Campolo is much in demand as a speaker. This is the fourth in a video series which takes its title -- “I have decided to live like a believer” -- from an Amy Grant song. In this particular message, Campolo speaks about learning to minister in community in the power of the Holy Spirit, encouraging and working with fellow believers.

Key phrases and concepts

This video helped fulfill the purpose of this course by . . .

What struck me most . . .