1. Which chapter of Kimball’s book do you wish people in your home church (or a church you attend here in OKC) would read? Describe in detail the material in that chapter you think would be important for them to read.

2. Think about some of your friends here at SNU who are less than excited about the Church. Which of the chapters in The Emerging Church do you wish they would read? Describe in detail the material you think has particular relevance to them.

3. If you were one of those people who underline lots of things as you read through a magazine or book, which textbook chapter would have the most underlining after you had read the entire book? Explain.

4. Which two stories, examples or word pictures out of The Emerging Church may remain in your memory the longest?

5. Scattered throughout the book are lots of scripture quotations. Which two Biblical passages appearing in the textbook are the most powerful for you? Why?

6. The book uses a lot of tables / graphic illustrations. See, for example, pages 44, 50, 59-61, 95, 105, 122-123, 138, 175, 202, 205, 219, 229. Which two of the tables / graphic illustrations in the book were the most helpful or to you? Explain.

7. Scattered throughout the margins of book are reactions from a group of commentators whose biographies are given at the end of the book. Which two comments from the commentators resonated most with you.

8. Remember the stories of McGavran, Luther, Wesley and Bresee which were told in class? Give me brief biographies of each of those four men. Be sure to include the approximate time frame of life, key issues in their life journeys, end result of their ministry. For McGravran, tell me the 3 questions with which he became consumed.
