

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.

Modern Missionary Movement

Study Guide -- Exam 1

1. Know some key items about and be able to distinguish between the following, including their chronological order of appearance on the world missions “stage”:
  - a. Anskar
  - b. Boniface
  - c. Columba
  - d. Cyril and Methodius
  - e. Jesuits
  - f. Las Casas
  - g. Lull, Raymond (Ramón)
  - h. Moravians
  - i. Nobili, Roberto
  - j. Patrick
  - k. Polycarp
  - l. Ricci, Matthew (Matteo)
  - m. Ulfilas
  - n. Xavier, Francis
  - o. Zinzendorf, Count
2. In the middle of chapter two of his book, Stephen Neill gives about five reasons for the rapid spread of the Gospel in the early centuries. Know these reasons.
3. Know the three radical changes Neill gives in his first chapter that occurred for the first generation or so of Christians.
4. From Neill, know the three things that Ramón Lull says would be necessary for the evangelization of the Saracens (a Muslim group).
5. Be able to list Ralph Winter’s 5 great periods of mission history or redemptive activity which were given in class at the start of the semester. Know the rough dating assigned to each period as well as the principal cultural group reached in that time frame.